The indexes assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains (net foreign withholding taxes for MSCI indexes), and assumes no management, custody, transaction or other expenses. The disciplines used in managing accounts in the various strategies may prevent or limit investment in major stocks and/or bonds in the indexes as well as several strategies allow for investments in emerging markets stocks, which are not included in the MSCI indexes. These differences may lead to returns that are not correlated to the returns of the indexes. It is not possible to invest directly in the index.
