INVESTMENT APPROACH

Robust Models Plus Human Insights

- Hotchkis & Wiley (“H&W”) employs proprietary quantitative tools designed to replicate the work of a H&W analyst, which helps narrow the opportunity set to a more manageable and attractive subset.
- Analysts then leverage their deep industry expertise to make adjustments that the models may have missed; these adjustments are saved in our database and will be reflected in the model’s output going forward.

A Focus on Risk

- At the stock level, H&W analysts provide Fundamental Risk Ratings for each stock, which is a numerical score for three different pillars: 1) business quality; 2) balance sheet strength; 3) corporate governance.
- At the portfolio level, H&W portfolio managers manage stock risks that may be correlated, e.g., sector/industry exposures, factor exposures, trading liquidity.

A Time-tested Active Approach That Doesn’t Follow The Crowd

- The SMID Cap Diversified Value ETF (HWSM) uses the same established investment process that our $3+ billion Small Cap Diversified Value strategy has employed successfully for 20 years.

Read the prospectus or summary prospectus carefully before investing.

Investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Investing in smaller and/or newer companies involves greater risks than those associated with investing in larger companies. Please read the fund prospectus for a full list of fund risks. Diversification does not assure a profit nor protect against loss in a declining market.

ETFs are subject to additional risks that do not apply to conventional mutual funds, including the risks that the market price of an ETF's shares may trade at a premium or discount to its net asset value (NAV), an active secondary trading market may not develop or be maintained, or trading may be halted by the exchange in which they trade, which may impact an ETF's ability to sell its shares. Unlike mutual funds, ETF shares are bought and sold at market price, which may be higher or lower than their NAV, and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns.

New funds have limited operating histories for investors to evaluate and new and smaller funds may not attract sufficient assets to achieve investment and trading efficiencies.

The Russell Midcap® Index, an unmanaged index, measures the performance of the 800 smallest companies in the Russell 1000® Index. The index does not reflect the payment of transaction costs, fees and expenses associated with an investment in the Fund. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.
